“A consultant

is a dynamic, flexible, well disposed, happy person with great knowledge on the subject to cover. We are sharp people, and we don't like being too comfortable or stuck in routine.

We are curious, we move around, we don't mind the part of the world to which we need to go to work, we just want to satisfy our client in the best possible way so that they trust us and sees us as a positive help that adds value to the traditional company".
